Guidelines for Footprints Articles

Content
The article should have a clear Northamptonshire connection, or a clear and relevant suggestion of unusual sources of information to help others.

Format
Text — Word.doc or Word.docx via email please to editor@northants-fhs.org
Please also include your Name, Membership No.

Pictures
Where possible and appropriate pictures are always good to help illustrate an article – jpeg format is best – please save the file with the article name and the contents of the photo e.g. John and Joan Smith.jpeg. Whilst it is helpful for you to place the image in the article to show the preferred position, please also send separately to the editor with the Word doc.

Length
Ideally up to 2-3 A4 pages or less. Longer articles are still acceptable but may be published in two or more editions.
We reserve the right to edit all articles submitted and 'the editor's decision is final'.

Copyright
If your article, or a substantial part of it, has been published somewhere else we must take care not to infringe the copyright, especially if you received payment for the publication. In this case please contact the publishers of the first version (even if this was another Society) and get their approval to use the material again. If you copy that permission when sending them, then we will then know we can legally use the article.

Likewise, you must hold the copyright to any photographs or images submitted or have and will need to show permission to reproduce any other images. If the images used are in the public domain, then they can be used freely but you should always show attribution.

Note:
This is only a guide — it does not constitute legal advice and you, the contributor, are responsible for any infringements.

We do not post your contact details in our journal. Your article will give your name and membership number only. Post publication, should any other member wish to contact you regarding your article, they can do so via the Society generic email: info@northants-fhs.org
